PART - B

( Reading )

1. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow :

Man is made up of many qualities, both good and bad, and among the latter is anger. The nature of every human being is such that anything that gives offence to his sentiments or goes against his principles, excites his anger. The evils which result from anger are many. Under its influence a man loses his power of reasoning and judgement. Not being able to retain control over himself when angry, he does not know what he is doing or saying. Under its influence a man is so much put off his balance that he forgets his duty towards his superiors and may even go to the extent of saying things which are extremely insulting to them.

When anger gets the better of man, he is capable of committing the worst crimes and there is nothing to be surprised at if under its evil influence, he commits murder.

- What quality does excite man's anger?
- What does a man lose under the influence of anger?
- What is the worst crime that a man commits when he is beyond the control of anger?
- Which word, in the passage, is the opposite of 'Irrationality'?
